General Comment

Director Lencu, as a concerned citizen of this great country you have a great opportunity to once again make the patent system of this country work as it has for the past 200 years. You have been given this chance by a president that loves and believes what this country stands for. Free will and the ability to present ideas that have been beneficial to us all. It no longer works like that and this is an opportunity for you to make a big difference. Don't fall into well hidden ed traps of the lobbyist.
